BANK FAILURES.

Several Big Concerns Forced to the Wall.

OTHER FIRMS EMBARRASSED.

The Sandusky Savings Bank Closes Its Doors, but Depositors Will Be Paid in Full—A Run on Chicago Banks, and One Compelled to Close—Other Failures.

SANDUSKY, O., June 6.—The doors of the Sandusky Savings Bank company, which closed Saturday night upon what was generally supposed to be one of the soundest and safest institutions of the city, were not opened yesterday, but displayed the following announcement:

"Owing to inability to realize upon assets at this time this bank has been compelled to assign. All depositors will be paid in full."

Intelligence of the assignment spread throughout the city like wildfire, and quickly a large crowd assembled in front of the banking-house, but with it all very little excitement was manifested. The present trouble is ascribed directly to the heavy though groundless run that was made on the bank about ten weeks ago, and which it withdrew successfully at that time, paying out upward of $60,000 within two days, when the run ceased as suddenly as it had begun.

This drain upon its immediately available resources handicapped the bank seriously, although it has been doing as much or more business since the flurry than before, such confidence did the people, especially the business community, have in its stability. Some heavy demands upon it during the closing days of last week, however, precipitated the crisis.

The available assets of the bank will aggregate fully $300,000, while the liabilities, at an outside estimate, are only about $200,000, and it was for that reason that an assignment was decided upon rather than a receivership.

Following the stoppage of the bank, the Hospital Supply company assigned to George Barney and Charles Mack. The savings bank had been carrying the Hospital Supply company.

Later inquiries show that the Hospital Supply company was indebted to the bank to the tune of $25,000, but notes for $15,000 of that amount were endorsed by George Barney, president of the bank, and Joseph F. Kilby of Cleveland. The security is considered gilt edged and the bank will lose nothing on the endorsed paper. The worst feature is the $10,000 overdraft. Messrs. Barney and Kilby foreclosed on a bill of sale and the works are stopped. Work will be resumed so as to complete jobs on hand. Subsequent disposition of the plant of the Hospital Supply company is not decided.

RUN ON CHICAGO BANKS.

One Private Concern Forced to Put Up Its Shutters.

CHICAGO, June 6.—The depositors began a run on the Illinois Trust and Savings bank in the Rookery building yesterday morning, and clattered for their money all day long. The bank made every effort to pay promptly, and the officials expressed no fear for the result of the demand for the deposits.

"I do not know what it means," said Cashier Gibbs, "but I do know that this excitement is largely due to the newspaper reports and sensational rumors that have come to the people. As for the Illinois Trust and Savings bank, we can stand any kind of a run. And yet there is no occasion for alarm, if the people keep on drawing the money out of the banks there will be trouble. All of this cash will be taken out of circulation and there will be a big crash."

There was also a heavy run on the Prairie and State Saving and Trust company owned by the same capitalists as those managing the Prairie and State National. Unlike the latter institution the savings bank required 60 days notice of withdrawal of deposits. The throng of people which surged about the doors of the savings bank was composed of laboring people who had placed all their earnings in the institution. An immense amount of money was paid out during the day without any perceptible diminution of the crowd, but the officials of the bank appeared to take the matter easily and met all demands upon them.

As the day wore on the runs on the savings banks seemed to become contagious. The last to face an assault was the Union Trust company, located on Madison street directly opposite The Tribune office. At 2 o'clock its doors were besieged by a big crowd and extra pay tellers were assigned to duty behind the big screen. The officers of the bank had expected something of the kind and currency and coin were piled upon the counters. When the bank closed at 3 o'clock several hundred people had withdrawn their deposits but the crowd outside was apparently as large as ever. According to its last report the bank had individual deposits subject to check aggregating $1,500,000 and savings deposits subject to notice to a total of $1,750,000. Its capital stock is $500,000 and surplus of something over $600,000. S. W. Rawson is the president.

A run was also started on the Dime Savings bank, at 104 Washington street. This institution has deposits aggregating $600,000, and among its directors are Colonel Robert C. Clowry, vice president of the Western Union Telegraph company, and ex-Senator C. B. Farwell. President Bailey of the bank says he has a dollar and a half for every dollar deposited, but the greater part of the money is tied up in securities. He does not know how long the bank can stand.

the run, but expects to pull through. The bank has a capital stock of $100,000 and a surplus of $50,000.

There is a run on the Hibernian bank, one of the largest saving institutions in the country. The depositors are being paid off at the rate of three a minute. The deposits amount to $8,500,000, and the officers believe they can stand the run.

One Bank Closed Up.

CHICAGO, June 6.—Meadowcraft Brothers, private bankers of this city, closed their doors yesterday. They were among the oldest concerns of the kind in this city.

At 10 o'clock a notice was attached to the closed doors of the bank, bearing this inscription: "This bank is in the hands of Lyman E. Crandall, receiver, by order of the superior court."

The bill praying for the appointment of a receiver is filed by Charles J. Meadowcraft, and its text gives as a cause of the failure the inability of the complainant to reorganize the bank after the death of his brother, Robert Meadowcraft, which occurred last February.

The bill stated that Charles J. Meadowcraft, Robert Meadowcraft and Frank R. Meadowcraft organized the bank. In the partnership Robert owned a one-half interest and the other two brothers the remainder. The terms of the partnership have long since expired and the same have never been renewed.

Slight Run in Milwaukee.

MILWAUKEE, June 6.—There was a slight run on the South Side Savings bank yesterday. It was short of hold-over from Saturday. By noon, however, whatever slight excitement there was had subsided, and Cashier John D. Koetting, when called upon at 1 o'clock by a United Press representative, stated that they expected no trouble; that they were taking advantage of the 30-day rule, and that the bank was in a perfectly safe condition.

Big Failure in Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, June 6.—The Kansas City Grain and Land company, a very large concern, has failed. Its general offices are at Hutchinson, Kan. No statement of liabilities or assets have been given out, but it is believed the failure is a heavy one.

The company has been the leading one in the west, comparatively managed, and with such good credit that in ordinary times it could have secured all the money it wanted. The company operated about 100 elevators along the line of the Santa Fe road and throughout Kansas.

Secretary Kirkpatrick of the company said that the suspension would be only a temporary one. It was due, he said to the fact that the company was carrying a large amount of wheat and was unable to get its paper renewed on account of the stringency of the money market. He said he was unable now to give any accurate estimate of the liabilities, but they were largely exceeded by the assets. The suspension caused but little excitement on the board of trade.

Uniforms Laid on the Shelf.

CHICAGO, June 6.—The Armstrong company, engaged in the uniform manufacturing business, made an assignment in the county court. Assets are scheduled at $275,000 and liabilities at $105,000.

The Armstrong Company is located at 149 Wabash avenue, and for 20 years has been manufacturers and dealers in uniforms and society and church goods in this city and in Detroit.

Mr. Armstrong said the cause of the failure was due to the drawing out of more money than they anticipated in the building of their new factory in this city. "Every dollar's worth of property that we own on earth," said Mr. Armstrong, "is here in this business, and every dollar of it is in the hands of our assigns for the protection of our creditors. This suspension is only temporary, at most."

The failure was precipitated by the filing of an attachment suit by eastern creditors.

Seized by the Sheriff.

CHICAGO, June 6.—The property of C. A. Weisenbach, a clothing and shoe merchant at Tenth and Halsted streets and 228 and 230 Milwaukee avenue, was seized by the sheriff yesterday. Execution was made on judgments aggregating $26,000, confessed in the circuit court. Weisenbach's liabilities are about $75,000 and his assets about $50,000.

Provision Dealers Fail.

PHILADELPHIA, June 6.—Washington Butchers' Sons, provision dealers, filed an assignment, with George W. Lex as the assignee. No statement of the assets or liabilities can be obtained. Tightness of the money market is the announced cause of the embarrassment.

A Big One in Texas.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Comptroller Eckels was informed yesterday that the Merchants' National bank of Fort Worth, Tex., capital $250,000, had failed. The bank was closed on an order from the directors and Bank Examiner Stone was placed in charge.

Publishers Assign.

MONTRÉAL, June 6.—The publishers of L'Étendard, the French clerical organ in this city, have assigned with liabilities of some $70,000. The assets are estimated at about $33,000.

Died of Terror.

OTTAWA, June 6.—A dispatch from Buckingham says that Mrs. W. Jackson, a bride of a week, died yesterday, crazed with terror at the report that a man named William Forde, who murdered her two sisters three years ago, is still living. Forde was supposed to have killed himself, but a few days ago a neighbor told Mrs. Jackson that Forde had been seen in Montana this spring. Mrs. Jackson brooded over this until brain fever set in, which ended in her death.

DIAMOND EXHIBIT.

The One From South Africa Opened.

A VERY INTERESTING DISPLAY.

How the Precious Pebbles Are Separated From the Soil—Some Foreign Displays in a Backward State—Denmark's Day. Other World's Fair Events.

CHICAGO, June 6.—The diamond exhibit from South Africa was opened yesterday. Precisely at 10 o'clock Ludwig Wiener, commissioner for the Cape of Good Hope, gave the signal and the machinery used in separating the pebbles from the diamondiferous soil was set in motion. A great throng crowded around the glass house in the main aisle of mines and mining and watched the process of diamond development as followed in the Debeers diamond mines at Kimberley, South Africa. Many hard lumps of blue clay, of which five tons had been transported here from Africa, were dumped into the great crusher. In a short time the earth had been washed away and the gem-bearing clay and pebbles were thrown upon a long zinc topped table.

Then Chief Skiff of mines and mining took the sorting knife in hand and went through the earth eagerly. Soon five beautiful, pure white gems were taken out, and the first one, a 4-carat stone, was presented to Chief Skiff by Mr. Wiener in a neat speech. Mr. Skiff responded, thanking the commissioner for the gem and praised the Debeers' exhibit as being one of the most complete and instructive in his department. The gem was then handed to the finisher who will have it mounted in a few days. The exhibit will show its working powers four hours daily, equally divided between morning and afternoon, but will be closed at night and on Sunday.

The imposing lines of foreign pavilions on each side of the main aisle in manufacturers' building, which is known as Columbia avenue, present a finished appearance today. The facade of every pavilion is practically complete. Russia, Canada and Norway only being a little short of reaching the finished stage.

The installation of the exhibits in those sections are far advanced, and by the beginning of next week Columbia avenue will be free from workmen. The Spanish section, which is located just west of Columbia avenue, is in a backward state, only the Moorish arches, which are built into the roof and form the pavilion, being finished.

The royal representative of the little Spanish king and the Queen Regent, when she comes here this week, will not be favorably impressed with the condition of the Spanish exhibits at the fair. Cuba's display in agricultural hall is ready for the Infanta Eulalia's inspection, however. The Infanta will not visit the fair until Thursday, and in the interim the forces are working night and day to have the grounds in proper condition for her inspection.

WITNESSES NOT CONSULTED.

Hugh Ross Thinks the Amalgamated Gets the Worst of It.

CLEVELAND, June 6.—Hugh Ross, the prosecuting witness against the Carnegie officials, and John Clifford, a member of the amalgamated executive committee, are at present in this city. Ross was seen by a reporter and asked if the action of Saturday at Pittsburgh meant that both sides had decided to drop the fight.

"It means that we have not been treated fairly by three of our lawyers," answered Ross. "They agreed to dismiss the cases against Frick and the others of the Carnegie company without consulting me, and I am the prosecuting witness. The thing don't look right. If you retain a lawyer you expect him to consult you before he settles your case, don't you?"

"Perhaps the lawyers consulted the legal committee of the Amalgamated association."

"They did not. Clifford and I are members of the legal committee. They simply went along on their own hook. We had the whip in this thing and we have lost it. The officials are free, and we are little to be placed on trial. We signed a bond Saturday without security to appear when summoned."

"Do you expect to be placed on trial?"

"I don't know anything about it. We have no assurance to the contrary."

"What is your mission here?"

"I am here because I wanted to get away from Pittsburgh. I wanted to keep cool. Things are sizzling among the men."

"Are you sure the men knew nothing about the dismissal of those cases?"

"I am. The lawyers acted on their own responsibility."

FELL FROM A BALLOON.

An Aeronaut Makes a 3,000-Foot Ascension and Loses His Life.

TRENTON, June 6.—Charles V. Richmond, an aeronaut made a 3,000-foot ascent here yesterday and lost his life. The affair took place at Cochran park, a picnic ground on the Delaware near Trenton. Nearly 4,000 persons witnessed the accident.

Bronze statues of Bertil, Thorvaldsen and Hans Christian Andersen are placed at the entrance to the exhibit. Photographs of the members of the royal family are displayed on the wall and also that of the Danish fleet of Vikings crossing the North sea. An interesting feature of the display is the museum built by Thorvaldsen and presented to Copenhagen in miniature, containing miniature reproductions of all the sculptor's original works. Personal relics of Thorvaldsen and Andersen form a very interesting display. King Christian's summer residence, Rosenberg castle, built in 1604, is shown in a model of gold and silver containing 1,700 pieces.

AN EXTRA SESSION.

Congress Will Be Convened in September.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND SAYS SO.

Not Earlier Than the First and Not Later Than the Fifteenth—Immediate Action Expected to Be Taken on the Financial Situation—A Talk With the President.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The president said yesterday evening in reply to a direct question by a representative of the United Press, that he intended to call an extra session of congress not earlier than the 1st nor later than the 15th of September, unless unexpected contingencies should necessitate an earlier meeting.

The president said further: "While there has been no mystery or secrecy in regard to my intention in this matter, I think not amiss that our people should be informed authoritatively that the time is at hand when their representatives in congress will be called upon to deal with a financial condition which is the only menace to the country's welfare and prosperity. It is well for the people to take up the subject for themselves and arrive at their own conclusion as to the merits of a financial policy which obliges us to purchase the silver bullion with gold taken from our reserve. One does not need the eyes of a financier to see that this gold thus subtracted from the government's stock is eagerly seized by other nations for the purpose of strengthening their credit at our expense."

"It does not need the art of statesmanship to detect the danger that awaits upon the continuance of this operation. Already the timidity of capital is painfully apparent, and none of us can fail to see that fear and apprehension in monetary circles will ultimately bring suffering to every home in our land."

"I think that between now and the meeting of congress much depends upon the action of those engaged in financial operations and business enterprises. Our vast national resources and credit are abundantly sufficient to justify them in the utmost faith and confidence. If instead of being frightened they are conservative, and if instead of gloomily anticipating immediate disaster they contribute their share of hope and steadiness, they will perform a patriotic duty and at the same time protect their own interest. The things just now needed are coolness and calmness in financial circles and study and reflection among the people."

FREIGHT TRAINS COLLIDE.

One Hundred Head of Cattle Killed. Both Crews Escape.

POPLAR BLUFFS, Mo., June 6.—Freight train No. 75, southbound, and fast stock train No. 76, northbound, collided on a trestle at Red Cut, one mile north of here. The trouble was caused by the train dispatcher giving both trains orders to run on the same time between Piedmont and this city. The trains met on the trestle while running about 25 miles an hour.

The engines, five cars of stock and a dozen cars of merchandise were piled in a heap. About 100 head of cattle were killed. The loss will reach over $50,000. The crews of the different trains saw the opposite trains in time to jump, thereby escaping with slight injuries.

Robbed His Daughter's Grave.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., June 6.—A warrant for the arrest of Theodore T. Woollens, one of the leading business men of Cheyenne, has been sworn out, a Wilmington (Del.) man charging him with the robbery of the grave of his own daughter. The husband and father were not on good terms. The burial was made in the Lombard cemetery at Wilmington. The next night the grave was opened and the remains were taken to Oxford, Pa., and reinterred. On this charge Woollens was arrested.

Hot Weather in New York.

NEW YORK, June 6.—New York was visited by a hot spell yesterday and there was much suffering in consequence. It was the hottest day of the year so far, the thermometer registering 94 degrees at 2 p. m. The hot wave extends from Florida to Maine and to the lake regions.

Awaiting the Flash.

DANNEBORG, N. Y., June 6.—Sirpione Martella, who has been confined in the Clinton prison since Nov. 22, 1892, awaiting the execution of his death sentence for the brutal murder of a fellow-countryman, Giovanni Parrello, will be executed about Tuesday noon.

Despondency the Cause.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., June 6.—George James, aged 80, was found dead hanging to rafter at his home in New Martinsville. He had been out of work and having a large family became despondent and hanged himself.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

Fair weather, preceded by showers; cooler, westerly winds.

MASON COUNTY furnished the presiding officers for both branches of the Legislature last week.

THERE was a net decrease of $730,425.99 in the national debt during May, notwithstanding the "stringency in the money market."

CORPORATIONS do hate to give up a good thing. The big bridge companies at Covington and Cincinnati are still fighting the law reducing fares.

IT is reported that General Harrison's Indiana friends are preparing to present the ex-President as a third-time candidate in 1896. They ought to have found out long ago that he is not big enough to play the Grover act successfully.

THE Elizabethtown News announces that it stood ready to support Representative Halbert for Governor had he instead of denying that Vanceburg speech, defied the Legislature and courted expulsion. "Uncle George" let the opportunity of his life slip by.

GENERAL H. V. BOYNTON, the well known Republican correspondent, is a veteran of the late war, and he believes the time has come when an investigation of the pension roll is imperatively demanded. "The reputation and the honor of the Grand Army of the Republic are now at stake," he writes, and he adds that the cry raised against the Democrats on this question is simply "the howl of the sapsuckers." More men like Boynton are needed.

THE Maysville BULLETIN of May 31 and of June 2 came in this morning. Things are improvised. The postoffice at Newport stamps the exchanges on the day of their arrival, and they are promptly delivered, showing where the delays occur. The mail agents on the roads need stirring up, every day.—Newport Journal, June 2.

The BULLETIN is mailed on time for the westbound F. F. V. on day of publication, and ought to reach Newport same evening. If the Journal does not receive it promptly, the fault is with "Uncle Sam" and not at this office.

WALL street is trying to bulldoze and frighten the President and Secretary of the Treasury. The latest news from the East is that some patriotic (?) financiers in the city of New York have set to work to get $25,000,000 of the gold reserve out of the Treasury, with the expectation that such a depletion will frighten the Government into the issue of bonds and the opening of a new era of speculation. They have $15,000,000 to get. This is a nice scheme for Wall street, but Messrs. Cleveland and Carlisle don't care worth a cent, and they are not the men to be driven to anything.

THE destruction of the office of the Jackson Hustler a few days ago, by blowing it up with dynamite, was evidently the dastardly work of that lawless element which once gave Breathitt County such unenviable notoriety. Brother J. J. Dickey, the editor of the Hustler, is not to be silenced by such an element. He says: "The Hustler may be blotted out of existence, its messages of peace and good will no more be read in the quiet, happy homes of this brave and generous people, but the spirit which animated it will never die. The sentiment it sought to nourish will grow till like a giant it will bear down all opposition." That his good work in that section has not been altogether in vain, is evidenced by fact that the good people of Jackson have raised a fund to purchase a new outfit for the Hustler.

SUNDAY opening at the World's Fair has proved such a failure, in point of attendance, that the managers have concluded to quit lying about it. The attendance the first Sunday was reported as high as 200,000. The managers wanted it to look as large as possible, but they overshot the mark, for when the tickets were counted only 94,000 could be found. Not wishing to acknowledge that Sunday opening was such a failure, they claimed that the turnstiles were out of order, and that the gate-keepers had been doing some robbing. Men who would boldly violate a plain contract with the National Government, wouldn't hesitate at lying. But the second Sunday came, and the attendance was much less than on the first. They can't conceal the fact any longer; their Sunday opening scheme is a miserable failure as it deserves to be.

ANOTHER instance showing the careless way in which the Legislature does business has just come to light. The Railroad Fence bill recently passed turns out to be not exactly what the two houses thought it was when it was voted upon. The bill originally passed provided that where railroad companies own the right of way they should fence the right of way with nine strands of wire, posts ten feet apart, set in the ground two and a half feet, and with a "stay" between them. This bill, it was discovered, was improperly passed, and what was thought to be a duplicate bill was introduced. It seems that it was materially different, as the one passed for it provided for only seven strands of wire, with the posts only two feet in the ground, and no "stays" at all. The Committee on Internal Improvements will now bring in another bill amending it so as to make the provisions of the former bill apply. And so the thing goes. The houses are kept busy correcting their work.

RICHARDSON, DUDDIT & CO.'s shoe factory at Portsmouth is turning out 300 pairs a day now, and it was only recently started. Employment is given to forty hands. Titus, Heer & Co., who lately started a factory there also, are doing as well as the first named. The making of shoes is one of Portsmouth's greatest industries. One factory a few years ago has grown to six or seven to date.

Oranges and Lemons.

An announcement is made by the imperial health officer at Berlin that is certainly worthy of notice and is of special interest at this time. It is to the effect that oranges and lemons are both fatal to the cholera bacillus. Placed in contact with the cut surface of the fruit, the bacteria survives but a few hours. They remain active for some time longer on the uninjured rind of the fruit, but even then they die within twenty-four hours. The destructive property as regards the cholera bacteria is supposed to be due to the large amount of acid contained in those fruits. Not a single instance is noted in which cholera was disseminated by either oranges or lemons. But the most interesting inference is that the free use of oranges and lemons will tend to destroy the bacteria that may have found a lodgment in the stomach and to prevent their multiplication.—Christian Evangelist.

Reminded him of his boyhood.

Two gentlemen stood in front of a Broadway store discussing the weather. A January thaw was in progress, the walks were sloppy, and the atmosphere was raw.

"Give me the good old fashioned winter of my boyhood," observed the man with a silk tie. "I like snow and plenty of it. None of your miserable open winters, with their mud and dust and rain."

"Well," remarked the other, "you ought to be satisfied with what we've had this winter. There has been enough snow to please almost anybody, I should think."

"We can't get too much to please me. Let it snow, I say!"

At that moment a dull, grating noise was heard above, and the next instant an avalanche of snow and water came plumping down squarely upon the head of the man with the silk tie. It completely covered him, smashing his newly ironed hat and splashing into his neck with the force of a douche from the nozzle of a fire engine—almost dashing him to the earth. The other man got a pretty good share of it, and as he wiped the wet snow out of his ears turned to his unfortunate companion:

"There's your confounded old fashioned winter. I hope you've had enough of it!"

"I ain't saying a word, old man," sadly remarked the other, trying to shake his demoralized hat into some sort of presentable shape.—New York Herald.

James L. Fletcher Dies Suddenly.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 6.—James L. HALL AGAINST HALL.

A Former Principal of the Maysville High School in a Contest at Covington.

Last Friday evening was the time for the School Board of Covington to make appointments of teachers and principals in the public schools, and the occasion was marked by the outburst of well-concealed opposition to the present School Superintendent, John W. Hall. His opponent was Professor C. J. Hall, formerly Principal of the Maysville High School. The latter was backed by a number of strong recommendations from school authorities, and his friends in the Board used these for their full effect. The vote stood J. W. Hall 9, and C. J. Hall 8. There was no election, and it was decided to postpone a further trial of strength till next month.

A special says the result was a great surprise to the friends of the present Superintendent and the public, it being expected that he would be elected without opposition.

The Commonwealth says: "Mr. Bristol, in seconding the nomination of C. J. Hall, read several letters of commendation from Maysville, in favor of the applicant; also a report from the examiners of Newport to the effect that Mr. Hall had passed a creditable examination before them. Dr. Wallingford, after nominating Professor J. W. Hall, read a communication from the Covington examiners wherein they stated that Mr. C. J. Hall, of Maysville, had failed to pass the examination put before him by them. It then looked for awhile as though tomie hatchets and razors would be flying about the room accompanied by a few puffs of red fire."

There are twenty members in the Board, and it requires a majority to elect. Three were absent at the meeting referred to. Professor C. J. Hall's friends in Maysville would be glad to see him win the present fight.

The C. and O.'s Good Showing.

The management of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, the passenger officials particularly, are gratified at the showing made by that line in earnings, says the Cincinnati Post. It was expected that the trend of travel, after the opening of the World's Fair, would be westward and that eastern business would be stagnant. As a matter of fact, all eastern lines report business unusually good.

The C. and O. earned $100,000 more in May than it did during the same month last year. For the first twenty-seven days of that month the earnings showed an increase of $94,815. The heavy increase is largely due to the energetic efforts of Assistant General Passenger Agent Ryan.

THERE will be a dance at "Elm Grove," L. D. Poor's place near Aberdeen, Thursday night, June 8th. Refreshments served on the grounds. A general good time anticipated. No improper characters allowed.

Why pay from 15 to 20 per cent. more for watches when you can buy a fine gold watch at P. J. Murphy's, the jeweler, and save that difference? No better goods made, and I guarantee to save you the difference stated above. Now is the time to buy. Successor to Hopper & Murphy.

THE mad dog that passed through Maysville last week and was killed near town was thought to belong to Mr. C. W. Hall, of West Second street, but such was not the case. A number of dogs were undoubtedly bitten in this city, and it would be well to be on your guard against rabid animals for a few days.

A PROPOSITION to tax bicycles is under discussion in Massachusetts. It is urged with some force that a man who owns a horse, even if the animal be not worth more than a bicycle, is obliged to pay a horse-tax. On the other hand the owners of bicycles insist that horse-flesh is a luxury in which they cannot indulge, and that the bicycle is fast becoming the poor man's substitute for more expensive means of locomotion.

SOLE AGENTS FOR THE CELEBRATED JOHN VAN RANGES.

NAMED BY THE PRESIDENT.
Several Officers Made Happy by Mr. Cleveland.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The president has made the following appointments: Charles H. Mansur of Missouri to be second comptroller of the treasury.

John W. Webster of New Mexico to be a commissioner from the territory of New Mexico to the world's Columbian commission.

Charles W. Dayton of New York city to be postmaster of that city.

The following appointments were made in the treasury department:

Dr. J. P. Arthur, sanitary inspector, Marine hospital service, for duty at Laredo, Tex.

Dr. Sylvester D. Willard, sanitary inspector, Marine hospital service, for duty at London and Southampton, England.

L. B. Giles of Texas immigrant inspector.

Resignation—P. J. McCabe of Minnesota immigrant inspector. Secretary Carlisle has dispensed with the services of 18 inspectors of rags, stationed at ports in Europe and directed that the work performed by these inspectors be hereafter discharged by United States consuls and United States Marine hospital officers stationed at the several ports.

THE CHINESE QUESTION.

Senators May Go See For Themselves How It Is.

NEW YORK, June 6.—The Times says: It is possible that the entire committee on immigration of which Senator Hill is chairman, may take a transcontinental trip this summer. It includes besides Senator Hill, Senators Faulkner, Voorhees, Squire, Dubois, Lodge and Proctor.

Senator Squire has urged that an examination of the Chinese immigration question be made, and that at least a sub-committee be sent to the coast to ascertain the condition of the Chinese in California and possible Oregon and Washington. Some members of the committee are in favor of going in a body to San Francisco and attempting to find out by personal inspection what sort of citizens the Chinese make.

TRAIN WRECKING.

Two Attempts Made to Wreck a Lake Erie and Western Train.

PORLTAND, Ind., June 6.—Two dastardly attempts have been made to wreck the early passenger train on the Lake Erie and Western railroad east of this city. The first was at Fort Recovery, O. The night operator there discovered a corn planter placed across the track in such a manner as to throw a train. He removed the obstruction just in time.

The second attempt was made four miles west of there, across in Indiana. Four bolts had been taken out of the straps that hold the ends of the rails together, and the straps taken away entirely. Luckily the break was found in time to prevent a terrible disaster. The work is supposed to be that of some enemy of the road.

Going to Chicago.

NEW YORK, June 6.—The infant and her party started westward yesterday to see the sights of the world's fair and enjoy the hospitality of Chicago.

Louisville Tobacco Market.

Furnished by Glover & Durrett, Louisville Tobacco Warehouses.

Offered on our market for the week just closed amount to 1,896 bbls. with receipts for the same period of 1,486 bbls. Sales on our market since January 1st amount to 70,777 bbls. Sales of the crop of 1892 on our market to this date amount to 74,675 bbls.

We had a week of light receipts and sales with prices about the same for medium to good burley; the higher grades are stronger. Planting season has been very favorable and a large percentage of the crop is set.

The following quotations fairly represent our market for new burley tobacco (1892 crop):

Cincinnati Tobacco Market.

Furnished by the Cincinnati Leaf Tobacco Warehouse Company.

The tobacco market has shown no material change the past week. The offerings have been very light for this time of the year, but we attribute this to the fact that farmers have been delayed in their work to such an extent that they are taking advantage of every day possible at home.

The low grades have been the desirable goods, and the competition among the buyers is holding. The high grade tobacco is still offered on "Easy" street, and prices fluctuate to such an extent that causes many rejections, especially if they are not pronounced in keeping order. The buyers are scrutinizing the order of the better grades very closely at this time but where they find them in good order they are bringing satisfactory prices. Our information from the different tobacco sections shows that many are setting at present, but the general selling is not as far advanced as usual at this time, but with favorable weather there will no doubt be a rapid up set as every effort will be put forth to make a full average crop.

The offerings during the week were 827 bbls.; rejections, 218 bbls.; actual sales, 609 bbls.; receipts, 786 bbls.

Sales for this week will be as follows: First, Bodmann; third, Chelunati; fourth, Walker; fifth, Morris; sixth, Miami; seventh, Globe.
